

COLBY FORECASTS RECOGNITION OF NEW GOVERNMENT

Mexican Government May be Recognized Soon

PROMISE OF SPEEDY AND HAPPY OUTCOME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Early recognition of the new government in Mexico was forecast today by Secretary Colby. Whether it will precede inauguration of President-elect Obregon next December 1, was not stated.

In revealing that "discussions" have been in progress with Roberto V. Pesqueira, confidential agent of the Mexico City government, however, Mr. Colby said that these gave promise of a "speedy and happy outcome."

The announcement came as a surprise. Earlier in the day a report circulated in New York that recognition was imminent met with emphatic denial at the state department. A few hours later, however, Secretary Colby made public a letter from Mr. Pesqueira as the basis for his announcement, saying it afforded a foundation upon which the preliminaries to recognition can confidently proceed.

Will Soon Cease to Be Question
"I think I am warranted in saying," Mr. Colby's formal announcement said, "that the Mexican question will soon cease to be a question at all, inasmuch as it is about to be answered, not only as it concerns the United States but, indeed, the whole world as well."

Mr. Pesqueira's letter told of his earlier informal negotiations with Under-Secretary Davis at the state department and said it was "a new Mexico," which was submitting herself to the recognized principles of international law, now sought recognition by the United States.

Mr. Colby described the letter as a very significant and a very gratifying and reassuring statement of the attitude and purposes of the new government in Mexico.

STRONG PROGRAM AT CHARITY MEET

Christ—Fine Music Adds to Men and Women Known as Authorities Will Make Addresses.

Two of the greatest authorities in America on the criminal offender will speak Saturday night at the State Conference of Charities and Corrections at State street Presbyterian church.

Dr. Herman M. Adler, state criminologist, and Judge Hugo Pam of the superior court of Cook county, will present the subject in a manner that will strongly appeal to the interest of an audience.

Dr. Adler is one of the greatest authorities of the day on the criminal in his environment and his mental abnormalities. Dr. Adler will discuss a survey recently made in the Pontiac reformatory of 1,000 men. This survey has attracted attention throughout the United States as one of significant contributions made in recent years to criminology.

COUNTER PROPOSAL MADE BY AMERICAN LEAGUE DIRECTORS

Want A Committee Appointed to Work Out Plan

BELIEVE SANE PLAN COULD BE EVOLVED

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A counter proposal to the Lasker plan for the reorganization of baseball was made today by the board of directors of the American league in executive session here. The board's proposal was in answer to the ultimatum of the National league members and three American league clubs—Chicago, New York and Boston, who declared the y would organize a twelve club league if the five American league clubs are "loyal to President Johnson did not join in the plan."

The board's answer suggests that a committee of nine members—three each from the National league, the American league and the National association of professional baseball leagues (minor leagues)—meet and work out a plan of reorganization. This committee it was pointed out will give due consideration not only to the major leagues, but to the minor leagues as well.

"We are confident," the statement says, "that in this manner a reorganization may be worked out along sane and practical lines which will be satisfactory not only to so-called organized baseball and by this expression we include minor leagues with the major leagues, but to the public as well."

"The Lasker plan" for the reorganization of baseball provided for the appointment of a civilian board of control consisting of three members not financially interested in baseball. This tribunal would be supreme and there would be no appeal from its decisions. The agreement would be in force for 25 years.

Just how the accident happened was not definitely determined tonight, especially as the weather was clear, with only a slight cloudiness and a light sea running.

Of the fifteen men saved from the Cape Fear, five slid down lines to the City of Atlanta and the others were picked from the water by ropes or by boats that were lowered for them.

The City of Atlanta struck squarely with her bow, the blow cutting a deep hole in the Cape Fear and shattering the concrete. Lines immediately were thrown aboard but the steamer sank so quickly that the majority of the crew had to dive overboard.

"Surely Senator Harding can expect no one to take him seriously when in face of his public record everyone knows that through the years of his public life he has been in bondage to the big business interests and the corporate interests of the country. His entire record has been one of turning his back on every proposal for progress."

Here and in other addresses at Youngstown and Kent, Ohio, Governor Cox attacked Senator Harding as a "reactionary" evasive upon the league of nations and other issues.

MILITARY DISPLAY IS PROHIBITED AT M'SWINLEY FUNERAL

Government so Notifies Authorities in Cork

BODY LIES IN STATE IN CITY HALL

CORK, Oct. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government authorities in Cork immediately notified Deputy Lord Mayor O'Callaghan and the bishop of Cork that no military display would be permitted at the funeral of MacSwiney and that neither drilling, uniforms nor Republican army badges would be allowed.

The funeral party, which refused to board the packet Rathmore at Holyhead arrived in Cork shortly before seven o'clock this evening. The mourners were accompanied by Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein and Count Plunkett, a well-known Sinn Fein member and member of parliament for North Roscommon. A delegation from the city council met the mourners at the station.

Counsel With Relatives
Later the councilmen went into consultation with MacSwiney's relatives and Mr. Griffith and Count Plunkett at the city hall. The belief was expressed that the relatives were inclined to leave the disposal of the body of the late lord mayor to the government to do with it as they saw fit. During the conference the coffin was transferred from the tug to the dock and the tug departed on its return to Queenstown.

For several hours doubt prevailed as to whether the body would be claimed or left with the military. After a prolonged conference in the city hall, however, it was decided to claim it and shortly after nine o'clock this evening a company of Irish volunteers and relatives of the dead lord mayor went to the dock and took formal possession of the coffin. A huge crowd was present at the dock.

Immediately afterward the coffin was removed to the city hall, where it will lie in state until the funeral is held on Sunday. There was an impressive scene when the body was borne into the city hall and laid on the bier.

WANDERER FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER AND IS SENTENCED

Prisoner Was Plainly Nervous While Awaiting Verdict

AT FIRST SAID WAS ATTEMPTED HOMICIDE

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Carl O. Wanderer, former army lieutenant was found guilty by a jury late today of the murder of his young wife, their unborn child and a ragged stranger and sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary. The jury reached its verdict after twenty-two hours and ten minutes deliberation.

While he was waiting for the verdict to be read, Wanderer showed the first signs of emotion he has displayed during the twenty-six days of his trial. He was plainly nervous, but as the sentence, which Prosecutor James C. O'Brien later denounced as a "travesty on justice" was read, a smile broke over his face and he recovered his composure.

Mrs. Wanderer was slain on the night of June 21 at the husband's home in what was at first thought to have been a pistol duel in the dark with an unidentified man who also was killed.

Wanderer at first said that the stranger had tried to hold him up, but after his arrest made a confession which he repudiated at his trial, in which he declared that he had hired the "poor fellow" to stage the mock holdup, so that he could get rid of his wife and return to the army.

On the witness stand he testified that this confession was obtained from him by physical violence and his attorneys introduced evidence to show that he was insane.

DEMOCRATS SEEK TO COVER UP THEIR MISTAKES AT HOME

Senator Harding Says That is Effort in Campaign

PREACHES GOSPEL OF UNDERSTANDING

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29.—A day of campaigning thru his own state was concluded by Senator Warren G. Harding tonight with an address in Cincinnati's music hall again drawing attention to domestic issues and charging that the Democratic party had sought to cover up mistakes at home by emphasizing "speculative proportions with reference to our foreign relations."

Democratic slogans and promises of four and eight years ago were brought back before voters by the Republican nominee in his enumeration of shortcomings laid at the door of the Wilson administration. In 1912 he said the Democrats won with a promise to reduce the cost of living, and in 1916 they used the slogan, "he kept us out of war," altho the administration knew "definitely, absolutely, that our entry into the war was inevitable."

Extravagance, waste, unpreparedness for war and for peace and a bungling industrial policy were among the "failures" which the candidate declared had characterized eight years of Democratic rule. All of these he promised to remedy under an administration dedicated first of all to "putting our own house in order."

Greeted by Thousands

The candidate's speech at Music hall followed a series of local demonstrations in which thousands welcomed and acclaimed him. Arriving here late in the afternoon from Akron he was cheered thru the streets to his hotel and later he rode to the hall at the head of a parade in which many marching clubs participated.

On his way from Akron he made short speeches at Ashland, Green Camp, Richmond, North Lewisburg, Urbana and Hamilton, reiterating his position on the league and arguing for constitutional government. At Dayton, the home town of Governor Cox, no speech had been arranged but during a short stop there the nominee and Mrs. Harding alighted from their train and shook hands with several scores of men and women.

"America must give its influence to spread the gospel of understanding," that should insure domestic tranquility and honest politics was preached by Mr. Harding at Urbana and when some one in the crowd passed up a broom to him made at an Urbana factory he said he was pleased at the gift because it symbolized the "political house cleaning" to be accomplished on November 2.

In his speech in Music hall, the senator gave his major attention to domestic questions, but also restated his position on the league and asserted that only by giving the proper example to the world could the nation fulfill its mission and pay its debt to civilization.

VOTE FOR MR. RUSSEL

Jacksonville is honored in having representation on the state next Tuesday Andrew Russell, candidate for state auditor, will doubtless be given a heavy vote. This will be the result not only of Mr. Russell's personal popularity and wide acquaintance, but from the further fact of the efficiency of his public service. Altho Mr. Russell's political acquaintanceship extends throughout the state, he is known Jacksonville and Morgan county upmost in his thoughts. He is a liberal friend toward every enterprise for the upbuilding and betterment of the city and county.

It is gratifying to any man in public life to receive the support of the friends at home and in the past days this expression of approval and friendship has never been lacking when Mr. Russell has been a candidate. Those familiar with state affairs know that as auditor of public accounts Mr. Russell has met his duties with signal ability. Various reforms have been inaugurated in the department under his control.

A ballot cast for him in the election next Tuesday will be an expression of approval for the manner in which he has conducted the affairs of his office. His record here at home and in the state service entitle him to this support from Morgan county men and women.

THE VALUE OF HANDICAPS

"All you need to make a success of life is a head." This is the gospel of Michael J. Dowling, who is the president of the Minnesota Bankers' association and who came to Jacksonville yesterday to address the State Conference of Charities and Corrections. Mr. Dowling is a fine example of his philosophy. At the age of fifteen years he was in a Minnesota poor house without sisters, brothers or parents. Moreover, he was using two artificial legs, one artificial hand and with the fingers gone from the other hand. Yet this crippled, penniless lad of 15, by his indomitable spirit, has made a great success of life.

He told the county authorities that if they would give him two years education that he would cease to be a county charge. With that two years of learning as a start, he educated himself still further. Then he became a teacher, afterward a country newspaper publisher and subsequently he entered the banking business. Now for eighteen years he has been at the head of the First State bank of Olivet, Minn.

As already stated, he is the president of the Minnesota Bankers' association. He is prominent in politics and in the last election was a candidate for governor of his home state. He wasn't elected, but ran second to the winning candidate. It is certainly an inspiration to meet Mr. Dowling and to hear from his own lips something about his life and experiences. His name indicates his lineage and he has that sparkling wit and sense of humor that characterize the Irish people.

When one remembers the success that he has made, under conditions that would absolutely discourage the average man, it is not surprising to know that in the war time the British government cabled him to come to England and talk to disabled soldiers. So it happened that he spent two and a half months in the hospitals there. Magazine and newspaper articles have recounted the facts about his experiences there and the value of the service rendered. Imagine, if you can, the effect on a discouraged wounded soldier with one shattered leg, when addressed by a strong, healthy, successful man minus two legs and one arm with only the stub of the right hand in use.

In visiting a hospital it is related that Mr. Dowling would address men in groups. "How many in this company," he would say, "have suffered the loss of a leg in this war?" Up would go the hands and then Mr. Dowling would say, exhibiting his artificial leg, "Well, you have nothing on me." Then would come the query: "How many in the company are minus two legs?" Of course a lesser number of hands would be raised. And then: "How many without legs or the left arm?" and how many with these handicaps and an injured right hand?" It was not often that his own condition could be matched, and the presentation of his condition in this somewhat startling way immediately gave him a hearing and put him upon a plane where he could really give to his hearers something of his own buoyancy of spirit.

A crippled soldier, meeting in flesh and blood a man who had suffered more and yet made a success—a man otherwise strong in mind and body, full of interest in every day business and political affairs would take on new courage, a new spirit of hopefulness. So the weeks abroad were crowded with this kind of work and the wonderful American addressed in all over 36,000 British soldiers with shattered legs.

It is interesting to hear Mr. Dowling tell of his visit to the English king and queen at Buckingham Palace. After he had addressed one group of soldiers where Prince Albert was also one of the speakers, the prince asked him to be sure and call at the palace for presentation. Mr. Dowling admitted that he had no intention of going because the engraved invitation he had received called for "morning dress." He told the prince what the term meant and that he had nothing but the plain gray business suit that he was wearing. The prince is very democratic in spirit and urged Mr. Dowling to forget that facts and to come to the palace. Mr. Dowling accepted and, clad in his American business suit, met a cordial welcome from the king and queen.

He relates with native wit some high spots in the fifteen minutes conversation he had with the king. Evidently Mr. Dowling, while appreciating the cordiality of his reception, isn't partial to royalty.

Certain it is that no one can hear this man's story—know the general facts about his life, his ability to surmount difficulties without coming to the belief that it is true, "all a man really needs is a head," and to the further belief that Mr. Dowling's head is a mighty good one.

Rippling Rhymes

By Wait Mason

Henry the Great

I have a hat that cost a pile—hat prices high have soared—and I take off that treasured tile, and bow to Henry Ford. Like many patriotic gents, the people's cause I'd aid, unless 'twould cost me fifteen cents—and then I am afraid, I'd gladly make the welkin ring demanding prices fair; wind doesn't cost me anything, and I have lots to spare. But when it comes to selling rhymes at any pre-war rates, why, I have use for all my dimes, like all the other skates. But Henry took a nobler view, and he had higher plans; he said, "I'll cut the price in two, on my nice tin sodas. What though it means a mighty loss? My spirit won't be grieved; the cause is good and coin is dross when good may be achieved." So he indulged in slashing jags, cut prices many beans; and poor folk brought their shopping bags and bought his limousines. And other plumes beheld the sign, and their price schedules smashed, and merchant princes fell in line, and slashed, and slashed. And while we still have breath and life, we must not this forget—'twas Henry took the pruning knife and an example set.

A day or so ago Gates Strawn received a letter from Springfield and signed by Michael Murphy. It enclosed a check for eight dollars, which the sender said he had owed Mr. Strawn's father 45 years. He must have been off in his arithmetic for Mr. Strawn's father has been dead fifty-five years, so the debt must have been that old. The sender said nothing about interest, but the principal was surprise enough. Mr. Strawn, who received the check has no idea who the man is or anything regarding the matter.

TEACHERS OF GREENE COUNTY WILL MEET

Annual Teachers' Institute to be Held All Next Week at White Hall—Old Time Resident Dies—Other White Hall Items.

White Hall, Oct. 29.—The annual teachers' institute under the direction of the county superintendent of schools of Greene county will be held in White Hall all next week, and the schools of the county will be dismissed. The instructors are Dr. John Cox, West Virginia; Prof. W. A. Furr, Carbondale; Miss Lydia Clark, Normal. The attendance, it is estimated, will be about 175. Monday night the visitors will be "entertained" at the junior high school by the White Hall teachers, and it will partake of a Halloween party. Tuesday night the visitors will attend the Princess theatre to hear the returns from the presidential election over a special press wire direct to the theatre. A dance is scheduled for Wednesday night by the American Legion Post, and some one had the temerity to announce that it is in honor of the visiting teachers, which met with such a rebuff that this event will not partake of such character openly any way. It is believed that the people of White Hall will make the visit of the teachers pleasant and profitable in every way.

The death of Mrs. J. W. Evans, native of Morgan county and an old time citizen of White Hall, occurred at Monmouth at 4:25 p. m. Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Giles, where she had gone on a visit about two months ago. She had been in poor health for the past four months. Her maiden name was Mary J. Rigg, and she was born at Jacksonville eighty-three years ago last August. She and J. W. Evans were married at Waverly, Morgan county, coming to White Hall thirty-eight years ago, and here Mr. Evans died eight years ago, since which time she has made her home with her son, C. A. Evans in White Hall, the greater part of the time. Another son, W. J. Evans, resides at Los Angeles. There are eleven grand children and six great grandchildren. Another daughter, Mrs. Mattie Rohrer, resides at Hoxeyville, Mich. Samuel J. Rigg, Mrs. Martha Staples and Mrs. Sarah Browning, all of White Hall, are brothers and sisters, and another brother is W. P. Rigg, for years postmaster at Athensville. A half-sister, Mrs. Annie E. Harper, resides at Chicago. The deceased was a charter member of the Baptist church at Waverly, transferring her membership to White Hall in later years. The remains were brought to White Hall today and funeral services will be held in the First Baptist church Sunday. The interment will be in the White Hall cemetery.

Lieut. Earl Cranston Ewert has arrived in New York, after three and a half years in foreign service, and he is expected to reach White Hall in a few days. He is a brother of Rev. Arthur F. Ewert.

Dr. E. J. Hume and son Jack have returned from Aurora, Indiana, where they attended a dog show.

W. P. Neutzman, who was injured at Alton when Frank Ross was killed in the automobile accident two weeks ago, is recovering nicely in the hospital at Alton, and he is expected to be brought home any day.

A party of White Hall foot ball fans left for Champaign this morning to witness the big game.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE HONORED

Unusual interest in debating and declamatory work has brought to Illinois college the distinction of being the second school in the state to be granted a chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, a national fraternity having for its object the development of debate and public speaking.

Very recently the petition of the college was favorably acted upon and last evening Professor M. N. Maynard, head of the department of education of the month college, representing the national board of the fraternity, established the Illinois chapter. To be eligible to membership in this fraternity the student must have at some time represented the college in intercollegiate debate or oratory. Six men were made members last evening. John Martin, William Scott, A. Arnold Hegstrom, Franklin Scott, Jasper Underwood and Bernard J. Frazer. These men were the members of the negative and affirmative debating teams of last year. The membership is not confined to present students alone, any alumnus who has represented the college may become a member of Tau Kappa Alpha. Officers were elected at this meeting, Mr. Franklin Scott being chosen president and Bernard J. Frazer secretary and treasurer.

This honor is one to be highly prized by the college, both as a recognition of its ability in that line of college activity, and in the benefit to be derived from the inspiration that it will give, and the associations that it will open for the college. Great interest was taken in the work which was given in an impressive manner by Prof. Maynard, who pointed out the advantages offered for development. It is without a doubt the most progressive opportunity that has been the college's for many years, and from the spirit displayed the new fraternity on the hill will make itself felt in no uncertain manner in the uplifting of the forensic art.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments on the market have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

Medical scientists differ as to the cause of every form of rheumatism, but agree that when caused by a tiny disease germ, the only effective method of treatment is to cause the blood of its cause.

A very common form of rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood. The one and only reliable treatment, therefore, is

VIRGINIA YOUNG MAN HAS FINE TENOR VOICE

George Dewey Fisher Decides to Cultivate His Voice After Test Before Prominent Musicians—Other Virginit Items of Interest.

Virginia, Oct. 29.—George Dewey Fisher of this city was in Springfield last week where he met by appointment Messrs. Forrest Lamont and D. DeFreere of the Chicago Grand Opera Co., at the studio of Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson. The purpose of the meeting was to test the young man's rare tenor voice. He gave a group of songs before a talented and critical audience and afterward was told that his voice was of rare quality and he was urged to go to Italy for musical study. Messrs. Lamont and DeFreere are musicians of wide note and their opinion is worth much.

Mr. Fisher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fisher of this city and has shown remarkable talent since childhood. This is not the first time that he has been advised by prominent musicians to give his voice further training. The young man is a mechanic by trade and is a married man. He plans now are to enter a school in Chicago and later to go to Italy for a finishing course in voice.

The Virginia friends of the young man are quite enthusiastic over the promising career which opens before him and wish him success in all his efforts.

Mrs. Stuart Reid left Wednesday for Springfield, where she will undergo an operation at St. John's hospital.

Miss Dora Smith was in Springfield Tuesday, where she consulted an oculist.

THREE UNDEFEATED TEAMS IN ACTION

Chicago, Ohio and Illinois will battle to keep their status as Clean-Maroons and Buckeyes should put up a wonderful game.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Three undefeated teams in the race for the Western Conference championship, Chicago, Ohio State and Illinois, will take the field tomorrow in games which will have an important bearing on the Big Ten title.

Thirty thousand people, including a delegation of 1,500 with a sixty piece band from Columbus, are expected to witness the battle between Chicago and Ohio State, the first game ever played between the two institutions.

Illinois will clash with Minnesota at Urbana, but the game unless Minnesota springs a surprise and trounces the Illini, will have no effect on the championship race since Minnesota has been twice defeated this season. Two vastly improved teams will take the field at Indianapolis when Northwestern tackles Indiana. Both teams have sustained upsets in the title race, but are slated to present their full strength tomorrow.

Michigan and Purdue will venture out of conference circles. The Wolverines will take on Tulane University of New Orleans at Ann Arbor, while Purdue will battle Wabash at Lafayette.

REV. A. F. EWERT TO LEAVE WHITE HALL

Pastor of Presbyterian Church Accepts Second Call to Chicago Church, Effective Jan. 1.—Other White Hall Items.

White Hall, Oct. 29.—It is a common impression that opportunity knocks at a man's door only once, but in the case of White Hall's distinguished Presbyterian pastor it has come a second time with such force that the ever-ready gentleman has submitted to its importunities, and on January 2nd next Rev. Ewert will enter upon duty as pastor of the Eighth Presbyterian church in Chicago. This is the church that came near taking Rev. Ewert away from White Hall a month ago, but the local board intervened on the ground that his work here is unfinished. The Chicago church took them at their word and sent a committee here to investigate Rev. Ewert's work.

It became apparent that his work here could and probably will be completed by the first of the year, and the call to the Chicago church was renewed, supplemented by the importunities of a friend of the local pastor who has resided at Chicago for forty years, which with additional information and promise presents something that the good friends of Rev. Ewert join in saying that he can no longer ignore. This second call came Saturday morning, culminating in a statement to his congregation Wednesday night covering the above ground.

This will give two months in which to choose a successor, and to complete the work on the church here. The heating system should be in operation within two weeks, and then plastering and cement work by increasing the working force will be rushed for the wood work and lighting apparatus to be completed at a very early date. Rev. Ewert will leave one of the most extensive church plants in this section of Illinois, but he goes to the big opportunity of the Chicago Presbytery at a salary of $4,500 per year, $2,000 more than his White Hall salary.

Hubbard Funeral Services.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Charles Hubbard were held in the First Baptist church at 2 o'clock Thursday conducted by the pastor, Rev. O. A. Carman, and the burial was in White Hall cemetery. Mr. Hubbard resided in the vicinity of Hillview, and was rushed to St. John's hospital at St. Louis last Sunday evening, where she died at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Her age was a little over forty years.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Beadles are again in White Hall for a sojourn before proceeding to the Pacific Coast, where his services are in constant demand in evangelistic work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Garabrant have returned to Jersey City, N. J., after spending ten days of their annual vacation here as is their custom. Mr. Garabrant is connected with the Pennsylvania road in an official capacity.

The first number of the Boy Scouts lecture course was held in the Christian church Wednesday night, the attraction being the Kuehn Concert Co. The Jordan Entertainers are to be here in three weeks. The course is to consist of five numbers, and the initial number gave utmost satisfaction.

The two year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Edwards was rushed to a hospital at St. Louis this week because of a nervous disorder that has so far baffled those attending upon her. Mrs. Edwards and babe left for St. Louis today to remain indefinitely. Owing to the seriousness of the case and uncertainty as to how long it will require for relief, Dr. Edwards has been relieved as federal veterinarian at this point for the present.

Is Stricken With Paralysis.

Aaron O. Vosseller, a well known former business man and active in A. R. affairs, was stricken with paralysis about 5:30 p. m. Wednesday at his home on North Main street, affecting his right side. The stroke is not a critical one. He was not rendered unconscious, but he is in a helpless condition, being able to utter only a few brief words. There was a family dinner at the Vosseller home earlier in the day, and several of the guests had not reached their homes when Mr. Vosseller was attacked while in the wood shed at the rear of his home. C. A. Ruckel went to his rescue and summoned aid. Mr. Vosseller was a sergeant in Company I, 91st Illinois, during the Civil War.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Clark, both natives of White Hall, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Wednesday by keeping open house to their friends at their home on North Main street, including a family dinner to a party of fifteen. Throughout the day the celebration proceeded in a comfortable and happy manner, betokening the sort of lives that this couple has lived. R. V. Clark, the only son, was present from St. Louis with his wife and two children, one daughter being in school in New York. Mrs. Elmer Griswold, residing on Apple Creek prairie, is the other of their two children, and their son and only child makes four grand children. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were married by the late Dr. S. M. Culver, October 27th, 1870. Her maiden name was Miss Alma Bond, daughter of the late John Bond. Mr. Clark has been identified with many interests in White Hall during his long residence, and he and his grand companion have a place in the hearts of our people that will never be erased. Few men can dispense genuine sunshine in the manner of Dick Clark.

ILLINOIS DEFEATS WESLEYAN 13 TO 7

Blue and White Team Wins Game in First Five Minutes of Play—Game Exciting and Hard Fought.

Playing the best brand of football displayed this year, Illinois College by an irresistible attack scored two touchdowns and kicked one goal in the first ten minutes of play on Illinois field Friday afternoon.

This was enough to win as Wesleyan was able to put over only one counter during the game. When the final whistle blew the score was 13 to 7 in favor of Illinois.

Perhaps a harder fought game has never been played on Illinois field than the contest of Friday. Wesleyan came down with lots of confidence and fully expected to win. Her supporters were willing to bet their money the game would be in their favor. However Illinois displaying a reversal of form, that made them look like a different team than that which played Carthage, outplayed the visitors at all points.

Wesleyan depended largely on Haussler and Zook. Haussler lived up to his reputation, the Illinois stopped him and stopped him so effectively that he was compelled to leave the game. It was the first time in his football career that he had ever been knocked out in a game. Captain Zook who made Wesleyan's lone touchdown also proved a star for the visitors. He missed a forward pass by inches back of the goal line toward the close of the game that would have tied the score.

It is hard to pick out individual stars in the Illinois lineup. All of the men played sterling football and the line held like a stone wall. This is the most essential part of a modern football team and Coach Harmon's heart must have been gladdened by the work of his forward wall.

Illinois' tackling was deadly. Barnes, Cully and Fanning stopping the visitors time and again. Fanning was especially good in getting down on punts and tackling the catchers in his tracks. The line men also took a hand in tackling and many times broke thru and tackled the runner for a loss. Reid did especially good work breaking up plays and throwing the runner for a loss.

On the offense, Cully, Rogers, and Barnes made consistent gains. Rogers was especially successful in plowing thru Wesleyan's line while Cully and Barnes were able to skirt the visitors' ends with success.

Barnes easily outpunted the Wesleyan's kicker and Illinois gained on every exchange of punts. The game except during the latter part of the fourth quarter was played in Wesleyan's territory.

Illinois played a defensive game after scoring her touchdowns and nearly always kicked after holding Wesleyan for downs. In the last few minutes play Wesleyan worked desperately for a touchdown trying forward passes almost exclusively. Illinois, however, was able to break up most of these plays.

Illinois Kicks Off.

At the beginning of the game Illinois kicked to Wesleyan. The visitors were unable to gain and kicked. Illinois immediately returned the punt.

Wesleyan made first down on a forward pass. After several attempts at the line Wesleyan tried a place kick which was wild. Illinois put the ball in play on her twenty yard line.

Illinois could not gain and kicked. Wesleyan fumbled and Illinois recovered. Rogers hit the line for fifteen yards. Cully by a great run carried the ball to Wesleyan's two foot line. Rogers went over for touchdown and Barnes kicked goal. Score Illinois, 7; Wesleyan, 0.

Wesleyan kicked off and Barnes carried the ball back 25 yards before being downed. With the backfield alternating in carrying the ball Illinois rushed the ball down to Wesleyan's three yard line and Cully went over for a touchdown. Barnes missed the goal. Score, Illinois, 13; Wesleyan, 0.

Both teams seemed to be unable to gain and the quarter closed with the ball in Wesleyan's possession on Illinois' 25 yard line. Wesleyan made first down and then Zook skirted Illinois' left end for a touchdown and kicked goal. Score, Illinois, 13; Wesleyan, 7.

The ball was punted frequently during the remainder of the quarter. Just before the half ended Barnes tried a drop kick which went wild. The half ended with the ball in Wesleyan's possession in the center of the field.

At the beginning of the third quarter Wesleyan kicked to Illinois. After making first down Wesleyan's defense stiffened and Barnes punted over the Wesleyan goal line.

Exchanges of punts were frequent in the remainder of the quarter and both teams also showed a tendency to fumble the ball. Just before the quarter ended Wesleyan made three first downs.

and then Illinois held and took the ball.

After an exchange of punts Barnes tried another drop kick which missed by inches. Wesleyan then opened up with a series of forward passes but most of them failed. The game ended with the ball in Wesleyan's possession on Illinois 35-yard line. The lineup:

Illinois (13)	Wesleyan (7)
Fanning	le Zook Capt.
Itner	lt Macey
Burns	lg Opperman
Fielding	c Nelson
Andrew	rg Pike
Reid	rt Corson
Mellon	re Glose
Cully Capt.	qb Holladay
Barnes	lh Haussler
Scott	rh McAdam
Rogers	fb Neslin

Referee—Lantz, Gettysburg; Umpire, Cook, Illinois Normal; Headlinesman, Benjamin, Illinois Normal. Time of periods 15 minutes.

Illinois, scoring touchdown, Rogers, Cully. Goal from touchdown, Barnes.

Wesleyan, scoring touchdown, Zook. Goal from touchdown, Haussler.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Brad-

"The trade and price movement is more irregular, but on the whole rather less one-sided than in the preceding week, further retrograde movements in wholesale trade, production, employment and prices seeming to be partially balanced by slight improvement in retail buying and a fairly distinct hardening in prices of farm products. On what might be termed the constructive side of the situation is to be cited a slight increase in buying at re-quiet to fair be noted from the apparent dead point of last

Young People of Baptist Church Enjoy Evening of Fun—Physical Training Classes Give Exhibitions — Other Winchester Items.

Winchester, Oct. 29.—The young people of the Baptist church gave a Halloween party at the church Friday evening. The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion and various Halloween "stunts" furnished the amusement. Refreshments of ice cream, pumpkin pie, doughnuts and milk were served.

Mrs. George Stewart left yesterday for St. Louis to visit relatives.

Miss Lois Coultas and brother James left Thursday for Tuscola to attend the wedding of Miss Letta Irwin which will occur Saturday. Miss Coultas is to be a bride-maid. Miss Irwin has frequently visited at the home of Miss Coultas and has many friends here.

The ladies of the Methodist church will give their annual chicken pie supper Friday evening, Nov. 11.

The physical training class under the direction of Prof. and Mrs. U. G. Fletcher gave interesting programs at the Christian Church Friday afternoon and evening. Large audiences were present in both instances. While this class of work is not new in Winchester, the interest shown was most gratifying and the results were very satisfactory. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher made many friends while here and they will leave for their home Saturday with the good wishes of all.

Mrs. Fred G. McLaughlin, who recently returned from Pasadena hospital, is showing a gradual improvement in condition.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT IS NOW COMPLETED

Statue and Groups Have Been Placed—Time for Dedication Has Not Been Set.

After so many and exasperating delays the monument in Central park is finally completed, and to say it is admired by every one who sees it is stating the case mildly. Many who were opposed to placing it in Central park have changed their minds for good reasons. Where it is it will be seen by every one who passes through the town, and such a superb piece of work cannot fail to be an honor to the town.

Then too, the names of the old soldiers are studied so much. Many have relatives who gave their services for the salvation of the Union and it is a great source of satisfaction to see the names on the bronze tablets.

Not long since a veteran who was in the famous 101st and who had not been here since the war, hastened to the monument as soon as he heard of it and was delighted to find his name enrolled there. There are so many of these that it is a source of great satisfaction to see the pleasure of the surviving relatives and friends when they find a name they want to see.

Great praise is due Mr. Crunelle, the talented artist who designed and modeled the statue and groups. He is surely an artist of the very first rank and has won lasting fame by his work here.

The contractors, Messrs. Morrison & Walker, have had a hard time but have manfully stood by the work without a whimper though the tedious delay has cost them thousands. They have spared nothing to make the work what it should be and they have succeeded.

No one who had anything to do with the affair will ever forget genial Mr. Archer and his son, the gentleman who superintended placing the monument and statues where they belong. Both are first-class gentlemen and won many friends while here.

Messrs. Wheeler and Wyatt have been most kindly all the time they have been in office as county commissioners, doing all they could within the law to carry out the wishes of the old soldiers.

The exact day of dedication has not yet been named, but the monument association will arrange that at the earliest possible moment and when it is decided on, a due announcement will be made.

NOTICE

Effective Monday, Nov. 1, the repair shop formerly operated in connection with my garage will be taken over by Eugene E. Caldwell, under lease. Mr. Caldwell will continue the shop at the same high standard, and with the same efficient force of mechanics who have been with us for so long a time.

INTEREST GROWS AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Dr. Violette Talked on Beller in Chrit — Fine Music Adds to Interest of Services.

The preaching of Dr. E. E. Violette continues to draw increasing audiences at the Central Christian church. The interest last night reached a climax for the first week of the meeting. At the close of the sermon, three young people made the good confession, and it is confidently believed by the leaders in the work that this is really the beginning of a large in gathering.

Congregational singing under the able leadership of Prof. R. W. Pollock, with Mrs. Pollock at the instrument, is one of the features of the service each evening. Last night Prof. Pollock sang a sweet gospel solo that touched all hearts. Old-fashioned people who love the singing of the fine old hymns of the church, will be doubly repaid by attending these meetings.

The sixteenth chapter of Matthew was read from memory by Dr. Violette. There is a profound interest awakened by his method of reading the Bible. New meaning creeps into the most familiar chapters as the memory reading proceeds. Many have attended who thought they knew all about particular chapters, but Dr. Violette has shown them that there is indeed more in reading the scripture than in reading great poems. It is not too much to say that the reading is a thing that fascinates the hearts of the multitudes that are hearing him.

Dr. Violette preached last night on "Why I Believe in Christ." The sermon was calculated to make his hearers think. His word picture of the fact of Christ, followed by a portrayal of the hopelessness of the world without Christ, will be far-reaching in its effect upon the meeting.

$7.50 to $30.00 reduction in price now from any tailored suit in our stock. All snappy new styles just received for the fall trade, of finest fabrics, fur and embroidery trimmed and richly silk lined; all reduced today.

MATRIMONIAL

Doenges-Kramer

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of William Doenges of this city and Miss Carolyn Kramer of Detroit, Mich. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Campbell at the parsonage of the Holy Redeemer church in Detroit. The young people were attended by Miss Josephine Doenges and Albin Molohon, both formerly of this city.

The bride is a daughter of Fred Kramer of Salem, Ill., and is well known in this city. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Doenges of 324 South Clay avenue, this city. He now holds a responsible position with the Dodge Motor Car company in Detroit, and he and his bride will make their home in the Michigan city.

Deaths

Haley.

Mrs. Edward Haley of 350 East Morton avenue died at Our Savior's hospital at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The remains were removed to Gilham's funeral home and prepared for burial. The time of the funeral will be announced later.

Republicans having cars for use on election day will please call Mr. Vasconcellos, at 104.

J. A. GROVES RECALLS VISIT TO RUSSIA

In speaking yesterday of recent happenings in Russia, J. A. Groves recalled the fact that he was in the country eight years ago, when Woodrow Wilson was first elected president of the U. S. He was located in the little town of Alexandrovka and had the opportunity to gain much first-hand knowledge of the people living in that part of Russia.

Speaking of Gen. Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader, Mr. Groves said that he and all his helpers are Cossacks. These people the Jacksonville man described as intelligent and ambitious, not quarrelsome but terrific fighters when led to war. The Cossacks have many fine horses, something not often seen in the Russian country. They are the Arabian breed of horses and are fine animals. The Cossack is very much devoted to his horse, never eating a meal himself until he has fed and watered his horse. Mr. Groves is able to tell many interesting facts about the lives and customs of these people.

Two large automobiles landed in the city yesterday morning. They were well loaded down with mud, but the occupants were smiling and good natured. J. Bitt and family were from Akron and L. G. As usual, they were bound for Los Angeles, Cal., and were prepared for living, as one of the party has a house or bungalow to which they will go on their arrival.

WELFARE WORKERS BEGIN STATE SESSION

ANNUAL CONFERENCES ON CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

Attendance and Interest Surpass That of Former Years—Prominent Men and Women Appearing on Program.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the state conference of charities and corrections held the opening session at State street church Friday morning. The conference is in point of numbers one of the best ever held and many are the notable names that appear upon the program. Men and women long schooled in welfare and charitable work are here for a real exchange of ideas. It is a fortunate fact that nearly all of the men and women scheduled to make addresses or to take part in the discussion of the subjects presented are able to be present.

At the opening session invocation was pronounced by Rev. W. H. Marbach and then Mrs. Helen Brown Read sang as a solo with great acceptance "The Bells of Rheims." Willard Wesner was the accompanist. "Sylvia" was given as an encore.

Welcome to Jacksonville was extended by Mayor Crabtree and Judge H. P. Samuel spoke in behalf of the county. The response was by Judge Harry L. Persons, who is president of the conference. Then followed an address by Charles H. Thorne, director of the state department of public welfare.

In the afternoon delegates to the number of nearly 300 visited the state school for the blind and the state school for the deaf, where programs had been arranged for their pleasure and information. It was the intention to visit Jacksonville State hospital but the time up until 5 o'clock was occupied with the visits to the other state institutions.

The night session was held at State street church. A representative of the American Red Cross made an interesting explanation of the work done by the department of civilian relief. Then followed an address by W. T. Cross, secretary of national conference of social work, explaining something about the work of rehabilitation undertaken by the government following the period of the war.

The principal address of the evening was given by Michael J. Dowling, president of the Minnesota Bankers association. Mr. Dowling is famous as a man who has overcome great handicaps. At fifteen years of age he was in an almshouse in Minnesota. As the result of freezing amputation of both legs and one arm was necessary, with only a part of the hand left on the other arm. Without the aid of father, mother, brother or sister, this lad acquired an education, learned how to overcome handicaps. He became a teacher, then a newspaper man and later a banker, and today ranks among the prominent citizens of his state.

Mayor E. E. Crabtree was then introduced and gave a very telling address of welcome. He said in part: Every community has some special inheritance, wealth, power, fame or something unusual. Here a band of young men came from Yale College when the place was three years old and established the first year in the state as one of the years remarked, "a fountain of knowledge from which future generations might drink. The noble work done by these grand young men is reflected in the life of the city today. Here are three state institutions and here 25 years ago was the first meeting of this kind held here. A man from Morgan county introduced a bill in 1841 in the legislature a bill establishing the State School for the Deaf Stephen Dunlap, a blind man, began the work of the state to discover cases of blindness and introduced the bill for the State School for the Blind here. Your work is for the welfare of humanity and it is indeed a pleasure to welcome you here on behalf of the city of Jacksonville and county of Morgan as well. We fully appreciate the honor of your presence and place all our facilities at your disposal.

Judge Perry L. Persons, president of the State Conference of Charities and Corrections responded. He said in part: "You wanted us here and here we are. We arrived on a belated train at two in the morning to find out and obliged to seek quarters in a lodging house, waking the good natured proprietor to let us in, but our spirits are not ruffled at all. These meetings give us new ideas and grand aspirations. This body is 25 years old and its influence is felt as far as the U. S. congress where laws were passed largely thru the influence of this body. Our motto should be "Pro Bono Publico," for the general welfare. Governor Lowden showed a keen insight into human nature and the best interests in the work when he appointed Charles H. Thorne as Director of Public Welfare. He is a man whose services are most valuable and he has been of great worth to the work in which he has been engaged."

Mr. Thorne said in part: "We cannot expect success complete all at once. We must do all in our power for a good start and let future incumbents take up the work and go on with it. In this beautiful city is the oldest institution in the state and it is a pleasure to say that experts from other states have pronounced the work of the State School for the Deaf equals in the land; the work of the State School for the Blind is next to that of the famous institution in Boston and the Jacksionville State hospital has no superior in the United States. These desirable conditions are largely due to the hearty cooperation of all concerned.

"In the matter of child welfare the state should serve the children right. There has been a meeting in Chicago of those deeply interested in this work and they will make investigations."

"We have begun an extensive eye clinic. There is a fine institution in Chicago but all cannot go there so the state has begun to send expert aid to the people, a best doctors and nurses, to a number of cities in the state with excellent results. Great gains have been taken to gather in all whose eyes were imperfect and a thousand have been treated. Of these 25 per cent were blind. Care was taken to remove the contagious diseases from the others. For 25 per cent of those treated eyesight was saved. In Mt. Vernon six school children were saved from blindness. Great good was thus accomplished, a hundred times as much as would have been accomplished by institutions. We are in contact with all manner of cases and could find 50,000 of cases of all sorts worthy of treatment had we the time and means to scour the state thoroly.

"Rehabilitation of persons of imperfect powers is all important. The state has 50,000 of these. A law now permits us to enter public schools and cooperate with the local authorities. The great effort is to train all cases to be self supporting or as nearly so as possible.

"In Chicago a group of four buildings is being erected which will accomplish great things in this direction. They will be for research, for treatment of eyes and ears, for special work among children and other good important directions. It is hard to estimate the good that may be accomplished by these institutions wisely conducted by the university.

"Prevention is a great work. Do not wait till people become helpless thru infirmity or disease but take the children in time; combat the early infirmity and see to it that the afflicted ones grow up sound in body and mind."

Afternoon Program.

At the school for the Blind, R. W. Woolston, managing officer, made a brief talk relative to education of the blind. Then Miss Dorothy Dorsey, told of the social service work at the school. An address by Dr. E. V. L. Brown of the University of Illinois followed on the prevention of blindness. Afterward programs were given in demonstrating of the work done in the musical, manual training and literary departments. Still later in the afternoon the delegates journeyed to the School for the Deaf, where they assembled in the chapel.

H. T. White, managing officer, spoke briefly on the general subject of the education of the deaf.

Miss Grace Hasenstab, a social service worker, talked of the social service program which has been outlined for the deaf.

Subsequently an exhibition of work of physical training classes was given. Still later the delegates visited some of the school rooms. A. L. Bowen, superintendent of state charities, presided during the session.

The Evening Session.

There is no doubt but that the address of Michael J. Dowling at the evening session ranks among the strongest on the convention program. Mr. Dowling has a striking personality, a life story of surpassing interest. In his address he talked to some extent of his work in England and Scotland, where he went to talk to wounded soldiers for the purpose of giving them new inspiration. He related the facts about this work in order to make clear his views as related to the "reconstruction of the disabled."

He asserted that the greater the handicap the greater the mind if the individual but takes the right course. He said that the task which confronts a person with a physical handicap is to and himself or herself in the equation of life. "In algebra X is the unknown quantity and it is so in the life equation, and the task of each is to find out what quantity is. The making of money is not the only thing in this world, nor the most important. Money making is not civilization. The fact is that civilization means Christianity and those things that Christ taught. I have found from addressing thousands of wounded men that the greatest trouble with them was that they had been neglected in the beginning. They had not been given the message of hope. It does not matter so much about the injuries that may come to legs or arms. The injury which we must prevent is the injury to the spirit."

A HANDSOME WINDOW

Under the skillful hands of Le. Sehy, a front window in the hard ware store of H. L. & B. W. Smith has been artistically arranged. Some cornstalks are disposed about the place, while guns and ammunition suggest hunting. Tools of various kinds call mechanical attention, and various pictures make a fine background setting for the whole.

RED CROSS HELPS FORMER SOLDIERS

Many Thousands Are Given Aid Since Leaving Uncle Sam's Service.

When the millions of youths who composed America's war-time army checked in their packs, fingered their discharge fondly and hustled away from camp to return to the joys of civilian pursuit, many of them thought the American Red Cross had ceased to be an important function in their lives. It had furnished them with entertainment and other enjoyment and aid while in camp, but the great majority had never felt the need of the Red Cross before entering the service and they reasoned they would not need its assistance now that they were out of it again.

Since that time many thousands have learned to know otherwise. The Red Cross was their friend in the service and they naturally turned to it when trouble and complications beset them in civilian life.

Nearly a Million Aided. Through the Home Service Section, which has taken up the task of caring for the soldier and sailors after they leave the service, and their families and dependents, nearly a million men have been given assistance of various kinds. This consists principally of financial aid, finding jobs, obtaining back pay, allotments and compensation.

The states in the central division are beginning to realize some idea of the volume of information work being carried on by the Civilian Relief, a part of the Home Service department. From 1,500 to 2,000 cases are handled from each state almost every month.

The Red Cross does not confine its activities to service men only. It also takes care of his family. In a little town in Nebraska recently a certain soldier stationed at the Alcatraz barracks for discipline was granted clemency and his term reduced. But he had become so despondent that he threatened to take his life.

Found Family Destitute. The Red Cross investigated the condition of his family and found they were in destitute circumstances and that his mother was ill. Moreover, it was found that he had been absent without leave to go to her. Upon presentation of the facts in the case the sentence was commuted and the Red Cross is helping the family to get on its feet.

The fact that all the returned bodies of dead soldiers are given a military funeral may be partly attributed to the Civilian Relief bureau. While the organization does not attend to the funeral directly, it gives instructions through the American Legion and where the family is financially unable to take care of the matter, the Red Cross comes to the assistance and offers relief.

Public health hospitals are filled with ex-soldiers whom the Civilian Relief service is taking care of. A large percentage of these are suffering with tuberculosis and shell shock.

Helps Get Compensation. Great service has been rendered by the Red Cross in mental cases in identifying those who have appeared in state hospitals for the insane, and helping them secure compensation due from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

In the federal board's various offices in the central division, the Red Cross worker, acting with the Home Service section, makes necessary loans to the men, arranges suitable living conditions, helps collect evidence and supply facts to the board, assists in "appealing cases" and settles various personal difficulties for the men. The workers also follow up and aid all men who discontinue training.

FIRST AID WORK IS BEING PUSHED

Two phases of the Red Cross work that are being pushed under the peace program of the organization are first aid and life saving—two principles with which every person should have at least the fundamentals, for there is no tellings at what time they will prove of vital need.

In the central division, in particular, is this work being carried on extensively and intensively. More chapters have taken up this line of work and the number of schools which have adopted courses in first aid is increasing with considerable rapidity. During the last few months the Bureau of first aid has been instrumental in introducing courses in the normal schools in each of the states, with the result that several hundred teachers now are prepared to act as instructors. In several instances enough interest has been aroused in the normal schools to have work continued throughout the year.

Swimming Activities Grow. Swimming activities have been exceptionally well carried on, particularly at Muskegon, Mich., where, under the auspices of the Chicago chapter, more than 400 boys were taught swimming, life saving and elementary first aid under expert instructors.

Ludington, Mich., also employed a permanent teacher for swimming and life saving and reports excellent attendance in the classes. Many applications have been received from chapters throughout the division for the use of a swimming teacher, but, unfortunately, up to the present time there have not been enough teachers to meet the demands.

Milwaukee Chapter Busy. Milwaukee chapter has carried on an exceptionally active campaign, both in first aid and life saving work, and reports a large number of graduates. This chapter also has pushed the advanced work in the instruction of first aid and has pupils at present awaiting their medals, which have been issued to them from Washington.

Many private institutions which have no connection whatever with the Red Cross have been ordering first aid supplies through the division office. These institutions undoubtedly, in a very short time, will be brought under the jurisdiction of the Red Cross chapters.

ILLINOIS PUSHES HEALTH DRIVES

Rural Red Cross Chapters Are Increasing Their Forces to Carry on Work.

Public health is being given close attention by the Red Cross chapters in Illinois. The organization through campaigns and literature hopes to prevent and combat disease this winter through health campaigns, which are now being planned. The small communities where this work is very often neglected will come in for large share of attention this winter. The rural branch chapters are increasing their forces to carry on the work.

The classes in home care of the sick are creating intense interest among the women. Hundreds of girls and women are availing themselves of this course offered in the schools. A typical instance of the interest manifested in these classes comes from Henderson county, Ill., where two members of one class are driving 20 miles to take the course.

The health service in Macon County chapter is doing a great work. A clinic has been opened for crippled children as one of its peace time projects. The public health nurses and the Macon County hospital have co-operated in carrying out the scheme, which is meeting with great success. Schuyler County chapter is working out a health program in a most logical manner. Classes in home care of the sick are in full swing.

It is recognized by all the chapters that class instruction not only proves of inestimable value to those taking the course, but results in a stronger sentiment for public health throughout the county, thus making possible the most efficient service on the part of the course.

ILLINOIS SCHOOLS PLAN HOT LUNCHES

The school hot lunch is being advocated by some Red Cross workers throughout Illinois as a solution of underweight among school children. In many of the rural schools of the state the plan has been carried out with much success.

Many reasons have been given for the small percentage of schools that have carried out the hot lunch plan—lack of time for the teacher to prepare the lunch, lack of funds from which to provide it, and lack of co-operation on the part of the parents, many of whom feel it is a new fangled idea and most unnecessary.

All of these problems are being solved in the communities by the Red Cross through demonstrations of simple methods of preparing the lunches. With the coming of the school hot lunch as a firmly established institution, better nourished children and better students should result.

SIMS EXPRESS WARM TRIBUTE TO CROSS

"Government as it can make no expenditure for the relief of suffering and in aid of our disabled, in the many instances that have not been provided for by law often the necessary machinery of government departments renders action difficult if not impossible.

"The Red Cross and will perform these essential services promptly and efficiently to the extent rendered possible by public support. It has demonstrated its efficiency in the great war and in peace deserves the support all who have the health and welfare of our people at heart.

"WILLIAM SIMS, Admiral."

RED CROSS HELPS SOLDIERS CAMP

Life in any military camp at present, especially in hospitals, would be considerably dulled if it were not for the Red Cross. It is the same everywhere. Red Crosses there, sick or well, find service there, even though two whole years have elapsed since the war ended.

One of the principal forces of its work is the entertainment it arranges. Each night in theater or hut in camp, a movie is given, with a full vaudeville show as an added attraction at least of a week. In the hospital wards where the patients are too ill to leave their beds, these shows are staged for them. The convalescent houses of the Red Cross are the men's clubhouses. In them are not only the shows, but frequent parties as well. Just as was done with most of America's young manhood was frequenting such places. Excursion trips for the wounded, to be furnished by the Red Cross Athletic equipment of almost every description can be had at every camp for the asking.

The work of the Military Relief service in the Central Division at present is confined to the camps in this section—Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Camp Grant, Ill.; Ft. Des Moines, Ia.; Camp Custer, Mich., and Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

Thousands of the wounded and well soldiers and sailors in these camps swear by the Red Cross—not any more stanchly, however, than the many other thousands still in the service and the millions who have left it. They have the Red Cross to thank for many pleasant hours and attendances they would not enjoy had the organization demobilized its army of military workers and let the memory of the men still in the hospitals and camps slip from its mind.

Red Cross Helps School.

The Red Cross does not wait on time. It does things immediately. For instance, take the chapter in Gillespie, Ill. A new community school has just been completed and many new courses installed. The girls of the school were very desirous of a course in domestic science. The school board, however, did not have sufficient funds to install the necessary fixtures. Here is where the Red Cross stepped in. The chapter took the matter in hand and within a very short time had raised the necessary funds with which to purchase the necessary equipment. The girls not only have the domestic science course, but they are now able to prepare hot lunches for the pupils.

RED CROSS JOINS ILLINOIS TOWNS

Rural Districts Taught Wholesale Entertainment Through Community Work.

Counties in Illinois show how the spirit and breadth of the peace program of the American Red Cross is touching the countryside American and help solve the problem of rural life.

One of the first steps of community life in this country has been along the lines of community organization, whereby disinterested, disorganized townships have been organized to meet on a common ground and work together with a joint purpose.

The awakening of the community spirit has been brought about largely by means of frequent community meetings in different towns. Bringing people together in this way has resulted in a realization of their common needs and the desire to work out their mutual problems together.

The better understanding which has grown out of these community gatherings has affected the establishment of social centers in various towns, where by social interest and its benefits are afforded the people during the long winter evenings.

These community studies have been formed by the Red Cross chapters in Decatur and Rock Island. The chapters carry their work to all the surrounding communities. Home service has been established so that assistance might be given all the families of soldiers and sailors in the county. The citizens throughout the work and assist the organization whenever possible.

The realization on the part of citizens resulted in obtaining a trained secretary to carry on home service on a peace time basis. The needs, seen through the eyes of the citizens themselves, were presented to the secretary upon her arrival, and with the viewpoint of a social worker she had adapted programs to meet the varied needs.

RED CROSS ALWAYS READY IN DISASTER

The Red Cross is always prepared. When disaster hits a community this organization can be depended upon to follow right at its heels with help for the stricken people.

Red Cross relief is always forthcoming—food, clothing, shelter and funds; doctors, nurses and special workers with long experience in handling similar. No matter what the disaster may be—fire, flood, earthquake, explosion, bad wreck or tornado—the Red Cross is always able to cope with the situation.

During the last year there was an average of four disasters a month in the United States. One hundred and fifty communities in twenty-seven states suffered. The largest and most destructive of these were the tidal wave at Corpus Christi, Tex., and tornadoes in Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

In these events of horror, 850 persons were killed, 1,500 were injured, 13,000 were made homeless, about 30,000 families needed help, the property loss was nearly $100,000,000 and almost $1,000,000 in relief funds, not including emergency supplies, was expended.

To the sufferers from all disasters during the year the American Red Cross sent $120,000 worth of supplies, 110 Red Cross nurses and seven special relief trains. To meet the needs of the stricken, the organization set up ten relief stations, operated thirty food canteens and as many emergency hospitals. One hundred and twenty-five Red Cross chapters gave disaster relief service.

If disaster ever strikes this town or county, the citizens can be absolutely sure the Red Cross will be on hand to help them in every way.

JUNIOR RED CROSS ACTIVE IN ILLINOIS

The Junior Red Cross committees in Petersburg, Ill., has the distinction of being the first in the central division to have completed its enrollment at the opening of school. Four schools accomplished the enrollment in record time. They were: Harris High school, Seventh and Eighth Grade schools and the William Watkins school.

The boys and girls of the state are entering upon the year's work with renewed interest and their program for the year will surpass the work of last year by far.

It might be well to recall the work of the organization last year. It sent to France hundreds of chairs and tables made by the boys and girls to aid in furnishing war-devastated homes. Thousands of scrapbooks depicting life in the United States were made in the schools; thousands of toys were made and sent to the little refugees; hundreds of garments were completed by the school children and sent to Europe for those literally without clothing; food was supplied schools and orphanages opened—all done in the name of American children.

Junior Red Cross committees throughout Illinois intend to make a record this year in such work and already the class rooms and chapter's headquarters are humming with activity.

HEALTH DRIVES PROVE SUCCESS

Red Cross Centers Are Teaching Public How to Keep in Condition.

Realizing the importance of combating and preventing diseases this winter, the American Red Cross Health centers are centering their efforts on health campaigns in the various states of the central division.

The health center is of even greater service to the well than the sick, for by means of health education it prevents diseases and conducts its health campaigns to meet local needs. A Red Cross health center may be only a room with a volunteer or paid lay worker in charge, yet it can be a most important factor in the prevention of diseases and the promotion of health in the community. The health center work has advanced so rapidly during the last year it now is a part of the civic welfare organization in the majority of towns.

For the coming health campaigns in the states, particular attention is being paid to the small community and to the outlying districts. The influence of the chapter's headquarters is being considerably increased or extended throughout the county by the establishment of small branch health centers in the more remote sections.

Volunteers Aid Work. In most cases these branch centers are being placed entirely under volunteer management and the exhibits, demonstrations, lectures and the like of the main health service are being repeated at each of the branches.

In reports from many chapters it is found that the health center director is resourceful to the extent that she does not wait until people call individually at the health center for information. She will stimulate constant demand for health information and provoke inquiry. In this way she reaches many who otherwise would be neglected. In still other counties where trained workers are not available at this time, some women have stepped in and organized the work and carried it on until they have received assistance.

The Red Cross health center is governed by business principles, applies business methods, and, in its more simple form, can be established and conducted by lay people.

Uses Business Methods. It proceeds upon the demonstrated fact that health is a commodity that can be bought and sold like brooms and soap. Therefore, it establishes itself in a storeroom in the principal business section of the community. It displays its goods in the form of attractive health exhibits in its show windows. It advertises constantly and extensively. And it uses every business and social device to attract customers.

The Red Cross health center is of service to the sick in that it obtains reliable and complete information about existing clinics, hospitals, sanatoria and other institutions for the sick and the defective; about available nurses, both trained and practical; about when to consult a physician and why to shun the quack and his nostrums.

The central division has thirty-three health centers in operation. Many of them also conduct medical clinics, but the one chief, outstanding feature of the American Red Cross health center is its health education service which teaches well people to keep well.

Our national health is physically our greatest asset. To prevent any possible deterioration of the American stock should be a national ambition. Roosevelt.

Red Cross Averts Epidemic.

Timely action on the part of the American Red Cross averted what threatened to be a serious epidemic in Moline, Ill. The Red Cross nurse in her inspection of the children in the rural schools in this district found they were drinking water from a very shallow well. She immediately became suspicious as to its purity and had the water tested at the city laboratories. It was found to be full of colon bacilli. The well was condemned and the school board temporarily provided artesian well water, until a new well could be installed.

PERSHING'S TRIBUTE TO THE RED CROSS

"It gives me real pleasure to pledge my hearty support to the American Red Cross. While the opportunity for its greatest service comes during times of war, and its achievements during the late World War have been unparalleled, yet there is and perhaps there always will be a vital need for the humanitarian work which it renders.

"The present and former service men can never forget the Red Cross, not only for what it did for them during the war, but for what it is doing now in the army camps and posts and wherever needed in assisting the ex-service men throughout the country. The value of the American Red Cross as a peace time organization can hardly be over-estimated, and we owe it our loyal support and active co-operation.

"JOHN J. PERSHING, "General."

Instructions to Voters on the Proposition for the Adoption of An Act to Revise the Law with Relation to Banks and Banking

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.
CAPITOL BUILDING, SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

STATEMENT AND SUGGESTIONS of and concerning a certain Act of the Fifty-first General Assembly, entitled, "An Act to Revise the Law with Relation to Banks and Banking," which Act is to be submitted to the people to be voted upon at the General Election to be held in the State of Illinois, at the several voting places in said State on the 2nd day of November, A. D., 1920.

This Statement and suggestions on said Act are made under and by virtue of the provisions of "An Act to provide for the publication of all constitutional amendments or other propositions required by law to be voted for," approved April 12, 1899, in force July 1, 1899. (Laws of Illinois, 1899, page 216.)

To the County Clerk of Morgan County, Illinois:

The following is a brief summary of the law as a whole and an explanation of what is expected to be accomplished by its adoption:

This revision of the law embodies all the provisions of "An Act concerning corporations with banking powers," approved June 16, 1887, together with all Acts amendatory thereof including the amendments passed by the Fiftyth General Assembly which were submitted to a vote of the people at the election held November 5, 1918, and adopted by them at that election.

Since that time we have been operating under the provisions of that law; the Act now being submitted is identical in every respect with the law now in force with the following exceptions:

Section 11, which deals with the organization and capital of banks in cities and villages with respect to population, contains one new paragraph as follows: "(a) In all cities, towns and villages of not exceeding five hundred (500) inhabitants with a minimum capital stock of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.)"

With this addition, section 11 provides for the organization of banks with a minimum capita of $10,000 in cities, towns and villages of a population not exceeding five hundred (500) inhabitants up to a minimum capital of $100,000 in cities having a population of more than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants.

The capital is governed in all cases by the population and in addition in the larger cities, is governed by the amount of deposits. Provision is also made for the making good of any impairment of capital, the appointment of receivers, the increase or decrease of capital stock and the cancellation of the charter of any bank that does not comply with the provisions of this Act.

Section 16 repeals "An Act concerning corporations with banking powers," approved June 16, 1887, and all Acts amendatory thereof.

Section 17 provides that the Secretary of State shall submit this Act to a vote of the people for their ratification, and if approved by a majority of the votes cast for or against such law, the Governor shall thereupon issue his proclamation that this Act is then in force.

The law as a whole does away with the private banker; gives the Auditor of Public Accounts complete jurisdiction over the financial affairs of State banks; affords such banks the opportunity to take care of the financial requirements of their communities and yet protects the depositors against loss of account of improper loans and mismanagement of the business.

This Act will not be adopted unless it is approved by a majority of the votes cast at such election for or against said Act.

The proposition of submitting the Act to revise the law with relation to banks and banking should be printed upon separate ballots, apart from the ballot containing the names of the candidates for office, and said separate ballot should be substantially in the following form:

For an Act to revise the law with relation to banks and banking.

Against an Act to revise the law in relation to banks and banking.

On the back of this ballot is to be printed the following: "Ballot on the adoption of an Act to revise the law with relation to banks and banking."

LOUIS L. EMMERSON,

Secretary of State.

Approved: Edward J. Brundage, Attorney General.
June 17, 1920.

CAPITOL BUILDING, SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

I, Louis L. Emmerson, Secretary of State of the State of Illinois, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy, setting out truly and correctly the substance of an Act entitled, "An Act to revise the law with relation to banks and banking," said Act to be submitted to the voters at an election to be held on the 2nd day of November, A. D. 1920, in the County of Morgan as specified in the said Act now on file in this office pursuant to law, which statement is made in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 9, of chapter 7a of Hurd's Revised Statutes of Illinois 1917, the original of such statement being now on file in this office.

In Witness Whereof I hereunto set my hand and affix the Great Seal of the State of Illinois, at my office in the Capitol building, in the city of Springfield, this 31st day of July, A. D. 1920.

LOUIS L. EMMERSON, Secretary of State.

Instructions to Voters

Give your name, and if required, your residence to the judges of election.

If your name be on the register, you will be permitted to enter the enclosed space inside the guard-rail.

If your vote be not challenged, one of the judges, after endorsing his initials on the back thereof, will hand you a ballot.

If your name be not on the register, or your vote be challenged, you will not receive a ballot until you shall have established your right to vote, by affidavit or otherwise.

When you have received the ballot, retire at once, alone, into one of the voting booths.

Before or to the left of each party "Ticket" or list of candidates, as "Republican," "Democratic," "Prohibition," etc., you will notice a circle O one-half inch in diameter, and if you want to vote the "straight" party ticket, mark a cross in the circle, thus: (X) before the name of the party of your choice and do not mark your ballot in any other way.

Before or to the left of the name of each candidate you will find a square, and if you do not want to vote a "straight" party ticket, mark a cross in the square to the left of the name of each candidate for the office or offices for which you desire to vote, but do not mark a cross in the circle to the left of the name of the party, and your ballot will be counted only for the names marked.

If you want to vote for the candidates of a party, with some exceptions, you may mark a cross in the circle to the left of one party name, thus: (X), and then mark a cross in the square to the left of the name of any candidates of the party marked thus: (X), except as to the candidates marked under another party title, and these will be counted for the candidates so marked.

If you wish to vote for some one whose name is not on the ballot, write his name in the blank space under the name of the office you wish him to fill, and make a cross, thus: V, to the left of the name so written.

No number of votes will be printed on any ballot after the name of any candidate for representative in the general assembly; and where the names of three candidates for representatives are printed under one party appellation or title and you place a cross, thus: (X), in the circle preceding such party appellation or title, and you do not otherwise mark the ballot for representatives, it will be counted one vote for each of said candidates. Where the names of two candidates for representatives are printed under one party appellation or title and you place a cross, thus: (X), in the circle preceding such party appellation or title, and you do not otherwise mark the ballot for representatives, it will be counted one and one-half votes for each of said candidates.

Where the name of but one candidate for representative is printed under one party appellation or title, and you place a cross, thus: (X), in the circle preceding such party appellation or title, and you do not otherwise mark the ballot for representative, it will be counted three votes for said candidate.

Whether or not a cross, thus: (X), be placed in the circle preceding any party appellation or title, if you place a cross, thus: X, in the square preceding the name of only one candidate for Representative and you do not otherwise mark the ballot, the ballot will be counted three votes for said candidate. Where you place a cross in the square preceding the names of any two candidates for Representative and you do not otherwise mark the ballot the ballot will be counted one and one-half votes for each of said candidates. Where you place a cross in the square preceding the names of any three candidates for Representative and you do not otherwise mark the ballot, the ballot will be counted one vote for each of said three candidates.

Where you indicate your intention, by lawful marking of your ballot, to divide your votes among the candidates in any manner other than as specified, it will be counted for such candidates according to your intention as disclosed by the marking of your ballot.

If you mark your ballot, so as to indicate an intention to cast three votes for candidates for Representatives, such ballot will not be counted for any of such candidates.

In voting on any proposition submitted to vote and printed on the ballot, mark a cross in the column opposite the headings, "Yes" or "No" and your ballot will be counted "For" if marked opposite "Yes" and "Against" if marked opposite "No."

You must not occupy a booth more than five minutes; nor occupy a booth with another voter; nor remain in the enclosed space more than ten minutes; nor re-enter the enclosed space after voting; nor take a ballot from the polling place; nor vote any ballot except the one received from the judges.

If you spoil a ballot you must return it to the judges and get another.

other. Do not vote a torn or mutilated ballot.

Before leaving the voting booth fold your ballot so as to conceal the marks and so as to show the official endorsement on the back, and hand it to the judge in charge of the ballot box, and leave the enclosed space as soon as you have voted.

If you declare upon oath that you cannot read the English language, or that by reason of physical disability you are unable to mark your ballot, upon request, you will be assisted by two officers, appointed for that purpose, of opposite political parties. These officers will mark your ballot as you direct.

Intoxication will not be regarded as physical disability, and if intoxicated you will receive no assistance in marking your ballot.

There are heavy penalties for electioneering within 100 feet of the polls; for hindering a voter while going to vote; for inducing him to tell how he is going to vote; for showing his ballot after marking it, or for making a false statement as to his inability to mark his ballot.

The polls will open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 5 o'clock in the evening, except in localities working under the Election Commissioners, when "the polls shall be open at 6 o'clock in the morning and continued open until 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day." Between these hours you are entitled to absent yourself from your place of employment for the period of two hours for the purpose of voting. You will not be liable to any penalty for your absence, nor will any deduction be made from your wages or salary on that account; but you must ask for leave of absence before the day of election, and your employer may specify the hours during which you may be absent.
